MISSION

The purpose of Wilmington College is to educate, inspire, and prepare each student for a life of success and service to the community.

To fulfill that purpose, Wilmington College provides a high quality undergraduate and graduate education shaped by the traditions of the liberal arts, career preparation, and the distinctive values of the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers). By offering academic programs, practical experience, and co-curricular activities in a variety of settings to students from diverse backgrounds, the College leads students to gain an awareness of the world, to acquire knowledge of career and vocation, and to seek truth and social justice.

In keeping with the rich heritage of the liberal arts, the College seeks to educate the whole person—intellectual, emotional, physical, and spiritual—in ways that foster critical thinking, reflection, the free exchange of ideas, open inquiry, tolerance, and a desire for lifelong learning. The liberal arts are integrated with career preparation to help students develop the knowledge and skills to succeed in a career or further education.

As an academic community, Wilmington College is rooted in historic Quaker values that include integrity, service, simplicity, equality, peace and social justice, and respect for all persons. These values motivate those who learn and work at Wilmington College to make positive contributions to their professions and their communities.

VISION STATEMENT

Wilmington College intends to make significant progress in the next decade towards the goal of being a premier regional institution that graduates liberally educated professionals. To move toward this vision, Wilmington will:

- Integrate career preparation with the traditions of the liberal arts;
- Challenge students to bring the Quaker values of integrity, service, peace and social justice, and respect for all persons into their lives, communities and workplaces;
- Promote every student's participation in internship, community service, and international study programs;
- Create an environment of civility, respect, and trust; and
- Demonstrate a commitment to this vision by placing the needs of students at the center of all decision-making.

Year	Undergraduate Tuition
2017-18	$24,800
2016-17	$24,300
2015-16 Tuition Reset	$23,800
2014-15	$28,420
2013-14	$27,890

Tuition Reduction

Wilmington College reduced its tuition for the 2015-2016 academic year in order to make its distinct educational experience more affordable to a greater number of students. We believe this 16 percent reduction will help sustain the enrollment growth experienced this fall (2014) with our largest entering class of new students. The tuition reduction complemented a trio of value initiatives including new academic programs: Exercise Science and Equine Business Management, rebranding the college and the addition of two major facilities: Center for Sport Sciences (CSS) and the Center for the Sciences and Agriculture (CSA).

Why did the College lower tuition when the cost of higher education is skyrocketing nationwide?

We realize that ever-escalating increases in tuition are unsustainable for students and their families that support them. When prospective students compare Wilmington College's value and net cost, we believe many will decide to attend. The financial impact of our tuition reduction should make attaining a degree in four years more affordable. Our goal is to make the cost of a quality, values-driven, hands-on education affordable for all our students.

S. ARTHUR WATSON LIBRARY and MEDIA CENTER

ACADEMIC RESEARCH SUPPORT: Staff of six includes three professional librarians who provide individual and class-based consultations and presentations related to information literacy skill development and research/course projects.

Librarians support the research needs of faculty, students, administrators, and staff at all campus locations as well as external researchers with interests in Special Collections of local Quaker and College history. Managers in the areas of Media Services, Loan Services, and Technical Services supervise 35 student employees and provide support services to service users.

In FY 2013 Watson librarians provided 86 class presentations and logged 882 queries requiring research assistance. The Media Center completed 468 two-step media set-ups and 100 support transactions.

ROBUST COLLECTIONS: Watson Library is a member of the Ohio Private Academic Libraries and OhioLINK consortia, OHIONET, and OCLC for resource sharing and cost-efficient management. It also draws upon the collections of 25 SearchOHIO public library systems.

Local collection of 188,000 books, subscriptions, and media is augmented with consortium access and daily delivery from an aggregate state-wide collection of 70 million items at no additional charge to campus researchers. Watson Library provides access to a collection of more than 250,000 academic electronic books by login through its online catalog. Watson provides catalog access to the collections of the Peace Resource Center.

In FY2013 Watson users borrowed 2,884 items from local collections. They borrowed 2,581 items from consortium and Interlibrary Loan collections, with a cost-avoidance value exceeding $100,000. Watson loaned 2,346 items to other libraries.

Local and online subscription access to 12,500 journal, magazine, and newspaper titles are accessible through 140 online indexing/abstracting databases. Researchers also use the library's integrated search function (Starting Line) and 50 course specific LibGuides.

In FY2014, Watson users downloaded 17,434 articles from the library's online journal article collections, with an article purchase cost avoidance exceeding $350,000.

STUDY SPACES: S. Arthur Watson Library (1941) expanded in 1965 to accommodate 150 students on two service/study/stack levels in a variety of comfortable seating arrangements. WiFi access or Internet access connects patron devices to the library's catalogs, access tools, and online content day and night.

COMPUTER LABS AND PRINTER: Two computer labs, for classes and personal use, provide 17 desktop computers with table space for four personal laptops/tablets.

MEDIA CENTER: Media Center provides technical support and training for the use of 29 media-equipped classrooms and conference spaces on the Main and Cincinnati campuses and audio-visual assistance, equipment, and workspace for faculty and student projects.

Hugh G. Heiland Theatre

The 7,000 square foot Hugh G. Heiland Theater features seating for 430, updated lighting and sound systems, a large lobby for receptions, and a Scene Shop for set construction. The Theatre is home to the Wilmington College Theatre Department and the other Fine Arts Departments. It is suitable for other events such as Artist Series events, concerts, symposiums, formal ceremonies, and speaking events.

David and June Harcum Art Gallery

The primary mission of the David and June Harcum Art Gallery is to educate. It seeks to encourage creativity and appreciation in the visual arts through exhibition, outreach and awareness.

The gallery role is to foster a greater sense of student inspiration and introduce the public to traditional and contemporary art methods. The Harcum Gallery looks to encourage art excellence through programs, exhibitions and events. By creating an art experience, the gallery hopes to broaden the minds and add cultural enrichment to all who enter. There are four exhibits offered each school year, featuring nationally known artists. In addition, the gallery hosts student competitions, faculty shows and senior thesis exhibits.

Peace Resource Center

The Peace Resource Center (PRC) at Wilmington College creates a vital connection between the campus community and efforts toward non-violence, social justice, and global peace. The PRC was founded in 1975 by the Quaker peace activist Barbara Reynolds (1915–1990) who worked ceaselessly to create a world free of nuclear weaponry and war and to help atomic bombing survivors share their stories of the tragedy of military conflict.

In the late 1950s, Barbara and her husband Earl became icons of the global peace and antinuclear movement after sailing their yacht the Phoenix into a US nuclear test site next to the Bikini Islands in the Pacific Ocean. Currently, the PRC develops events and programming that encourages dialogue on the Wilmington College campus about how to resolve conflict from the personal to the global level. The PRC assists faculty and students in creating student-led projects, internships, and local/global collaborations so that Wilmington College and its local region can become an even greater part of a global community of peace.

In addition, the PRC is the home of the unique archive, "The Barbara Reynolds Papers" and the Hiroshima and Nagasaki Memorial Collection. Scholars throughout the country have visited the PRC to utilize this vast collection of materials for their research on the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki. Together with its non-violence, social justice, and global peace programming, as well as its priceless archive and collection of historical documents, the Peace Resource Center is a unique "Hands On" space that promotes and affirms peace as a core value of the Wilmington College mission.

The Meriam R. Hare Quaker Heritage Center is a facility dedicated to celebrating the local, regional and national history of the Religious Society of Friends. The center features 1,261 square feet of display area, and a traditional Quaker meeting-house. The Quaker Heritage Center celebrates the history of the Religious Society of Friends who settled in southwest Ohio, as well as their contributions to America and its culture. Quakers have a long history of activism on issues such as peacemaking, civil rights, racism and social justice. Visiting exhibits and speakers are just part of the experience.

Westheimer Peace Symposium

The Westheimer Peace Symposium promotes the exploration of peace as a viable, realistic alternative in a complex, violence-prone world. Each year speakers challenge Wilmington College students and the community by addressing the topics of nonviolence, social justice, the environment, and the nature of war. The Symposium has hosted such nationally-known speakers as Arun Gandhi, Walter Wink, Elise Boulding, Stephen Collett, Chief Oren Lyons, Colman McCarthy, George McGovern, Elias Chacour, Le Ly Hayslip, Baldemar Valasquez, Julian Bond, Jan Schlichtmann, Winona LaDuke, Robert Kaplan, Robert Kennedy, Jr., Sarah Chayes, Alicia Partnoy, and Richard Rodriguez.

Frank O. Hazard Arboretum

Hazard Arboretum is a 13.43 acre planting containing more than 230 species of woody plants, shrubs, and trees. It honors Dr. Frank O. Hazard, class of 1927, a biology professor at Wilmington College from 1928 to 1962. Adjacent to the arboretum is a 14-acre natural area.

Equine Center

The Wilmington College Equine Center consists of 28 stalls, a classroom, restrooms, break room, and a lab room. The facility also features an indoor arena, outdoor arena, and turnout paddocks. This center houses school and student owned horses throughout the school year and is completely run by WC students. During the year, riding classes and labs are held here with work in the classroom and in the barn. The Intercollegiate Horse Show Association riding team also practices for shows throughout the week. In addition, the WC equine center also hosts several events during the year such as the WC Faculty Horse Show, an Intercollegiate Horse Show Association Western Horse Show, and the Little International Judging contest to name a few.

Campus Academic Farm

Wilmington College has long been an agricultural mainstay in the state of Ohio. Wilmington College is grateful to be able to benefit from their history of agricultural education and production. This has been made possible by the devotion of acres of farmland on the college's vast academic farms to bulk vegetable production and other crops while educating students. All of the produce harvested from the college farms is donated to area food pantries and organizations that serve the hungry in Clinton County.

Center for the Sciences and Agriculture

The Center for the Sciences and Agriculture will transform the teaching of math, science and agriculture at Wilmington College. The renovated and expanded building opened for classes Fall 2016. The renovation was a 13,500-square foot addition to its 34,000 square-foot present facility.

This creates the new Center for the Sciences and Agriculture, where teaching and learning will be taken to new levels with special emphasis placed upon opportunities for hands-on learning, including student research and other student/faculty interaction.

Center for Sport Sciences

The 41,000 square-foot facility is not only home to WC's nationally prominent athletic training program and other sport sciences, but also accommodates training for essentially all of the College's 21 sports teams, in addition to giving students additional options for recreational activities. Furthermore, the Center hosts a one-stop shop for the area's sports medicine needs as world class orthopaedic, physical therapy, chiropractic and hospital imaging services are all under one roof and available to the campus and greater communities.

The 3,000-square-foot, athletic training facility features state-of-the-art classrooms and labs, and is located within easy access of WC's contiguous sports venues. It offers such amenities as two in-ground hydrotherapy pools, electrical muscle stimulators, and cryo-compression and ultrasound units. The Center's 17,400 square-foot sport training facility provides for an all-indoor area with an artificial turf surface. The complex's west end opens to an outdoor, lighted training field with an artificial turf surface for multiple sports, recreational activities and intramurals.

Campus History

Today, the College has a main campus enrollment of nearly 1,100 students with degree completion programs geared toward working adults at satellite campuses in Blue Ash and at Cincinnati State Technical and Community College. It also offers a graduate studies program in education.

In recent years, the College's soil judging team has placed nationally in the top 10, its Mock Trial team won a national championship and WC's Athletic Training Quiz Bowl team has won multiple state and regional championships, and placed in the top 10 nationally. Also, its Odyssey of the Mind team won several world titles in the late 1990s.

Wilmington's largest academic majors continue to be agriculture, teacher education, athletic training, business and sport management as WC alumni engage in careers in southwest Ohio and beyond. Also, WC has been included in the top tier of US News and World Report's "Best Colleges" Midwest Region for more than the last 15 years.

WC hosts the acclaimed Westheimer Peace Symposium each year and the Issues & Artists Series brings to campus unique entertainers, provocative and informative speakers, and entities representing diverse American and international cultures.

Much has changed at Wilmington College since those students gained national fame for building a dormitory in 1948, let alone those four inaugural graduates that served as standard bearers in 1875. But a constant throughout the College's 140-plus year history has been the transforming nature of the Wilmington College experience.

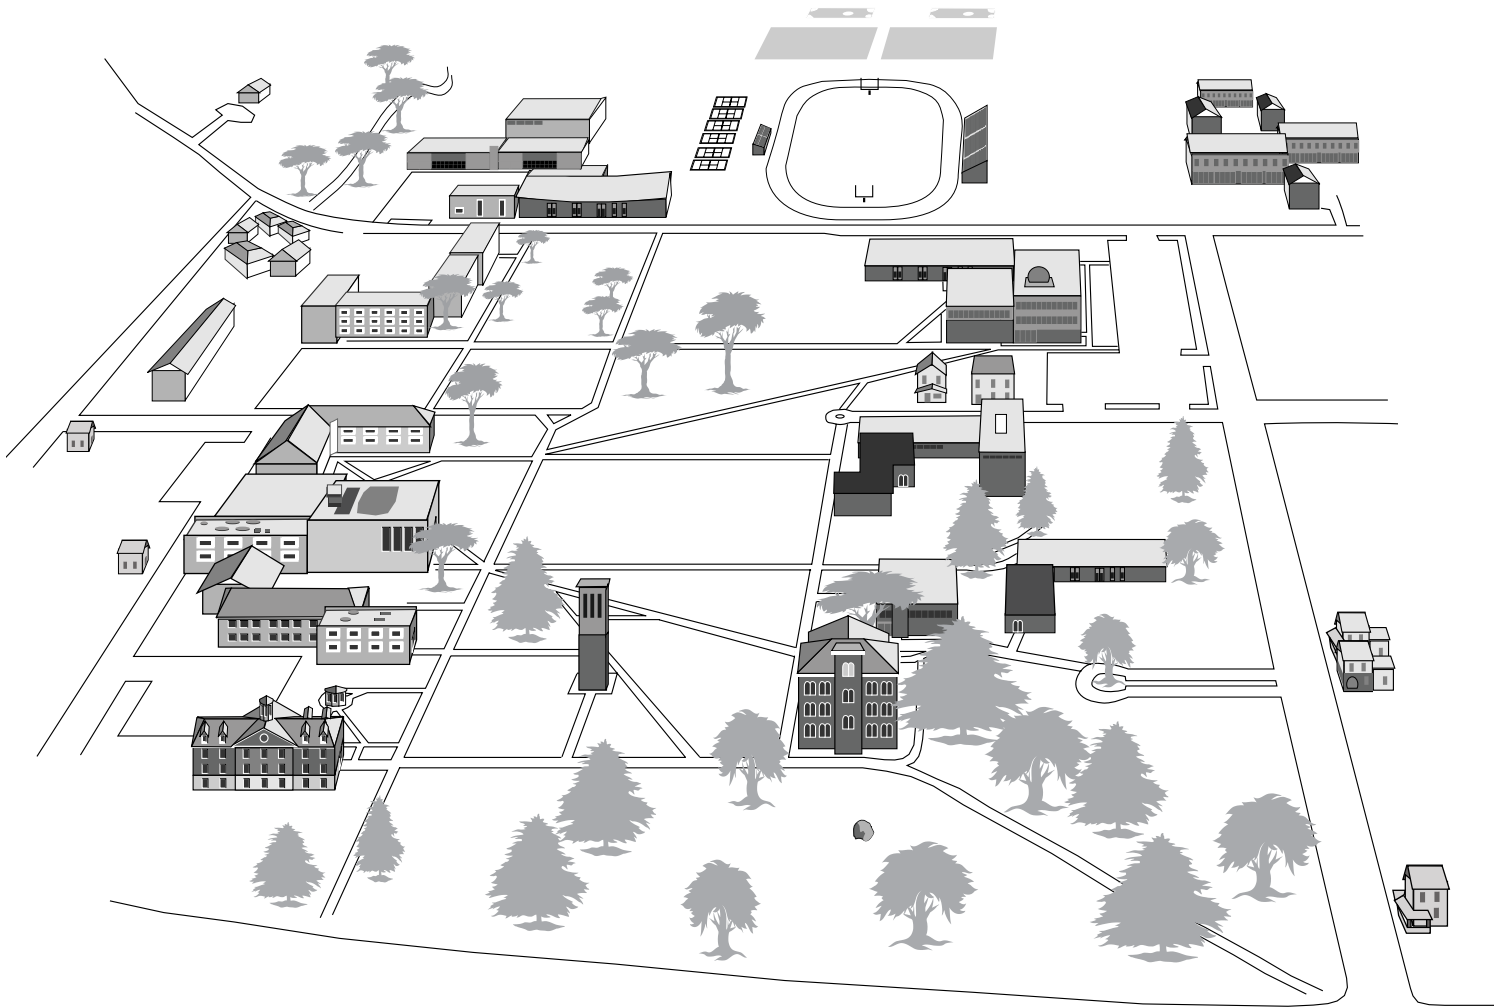

Wilmington College challenges students by providing an educational environment that fosters active learning, passionate engagement in service and leadership, and intentional encounters with the values of peace, social justice and global citizenship.

As a school founded by Quakers, WC embraces persons from all backgrounds, faiths and philosophies, and promotes campus-wide in its programs and activities the values of integrity, diversity, community, excellence, service and civic engagement, peace and social justice, and respect for all persons.

Students leave WC with the tools to succeed as they engage in careers or further their education in today's rapidly changing world. They also bring with them a wealth of knowledge and the experience gained from the liberal arts. They represent the embodiment of well-rounded individuals able to think critically and appreciate the role the arts, sciences and humanities play in a fulfilling life.

They also realize that service to others is often an important road to self-realization. Indeed, since 1870, Wilmington College has provided a hallmark for HANDS-ON LEARNING. HANDS-ON LIVING.

Wilmington College would like to thank the Haas Family for making this project possible through their financial support. This project has been a great opportunity for our WC students to have “hands on” experience in: project management, data mining, data management, publication layout and design and overall marketing concepts. This document once published will become a living document that the college will use to introduce itself to perspective families and students; A wonderful example of collaboration between alumni, students, staff and faculty.
