

150 Stories for 150 Years

Alum Recalls James Bond's Connection to Wilmington College

Submitted By: Stephen Drabek '69
Mission Viejo, CA

The big movie of the day was Goldfinger and the local theater had a full lobby size poster of the Golden Girl. The poster was promised to a local fraternity at the end of the movie run. But, alas, the poster disappeared. A few weeks later a scheduled convocation speaker discussed aspects of this new scientific tool, the laser. The first question at the end of the presentation was from Dr. Larry Gara. As he started to ask about its use in the movie.....the theme music from the movie was played, the poster came down on a scenery drop, and the most interesting mixed reactions were observed.

RETURN TO SITE