

Since it was founded in 1995, Amazon has grown from an on-line bookstore to a company that has a wide variety of businesses and opportunities all around the globe.

Amazon has grown to a multi-faceted corporation that encompasses the more known fulfillment centers that ensures stock and shipping of packages but also Amazon Web Service (AWS), Amazon Fresh, Amazon Whole Foods, Amazon Simple Storage Services, Amazon Delivery Stations, Amazon Air, Fashion Design Houses and Art Galleries just to name a few.

As stated before Amazon has businesses and opportunities not only locally but all around the world. These opportunities are far and wide. Starting with jobs on the Tier 1 associate entry level and go all the way to upper management positions.

The need for Operations and Logistic specialists in any faucet of the Amazon world is great. Every one of the different Amazon businesses have multiple operations and logistic teams that help the site run smoothly as well as ensures that everything needed to successfully complete all obligations of the day are in place and working.

There are many opportunities locally in and around the Wilmington, Dayton and Cincinnati areas that Amazon offers. Whether a graduating senior or an incoming freshman, Amazon would love to have you on their team.

AJ Bush Staffing Coordinator Amazon

After working in Public Service for 29 years, I started my career with Amazon at Amazon Web Services (AWS). I then promoted to a position within Amazon Air. I am now assigned in Ops-HR with the Workforce Staffing (WFS) Unit. Our unit oversee the Tier 1 and Tier 2 staffing needs within 7 different cities encompassing 5 different business lines for a variety of Amazon sites. My home office is currently housed at the Wilmington Air Park at the Amazon Air KILN Air site.

Zach Hoffman Staffing Administrator Amazon

Hello! I have currently worked at Amazon for almost two years. I started as an air gateway associate at the Wilmington Air Hub when it opened and then I moved over to recruitment after 3 months. Our unit oversees the hiring for 7 different cities and 5 different business lines for Amazon. I currently am enrolled at the University of Cincinnati studying to be a paralegal. In my spare time I love hanging out with my wife and my 3 dogs and watching Bearcat and Bengal football!
